BIG BROTHER MOVEMENT GROWING; NEW RECRUITS

New recruits in the Big Brother movement gained at an informal session preceding the Meif's League banquet at Central Union church Monday evening were Charles H. Atherton, E. C. Atherton, William A. Bowen, William Spencer Bowen, W. A. Bryan, J. P. Cooke, A. A. Ebersole, John P. Erdman, J. R. Galt, H. E. Hendrick, J. E. Higgins, F. D. Lowrey, J. D. McGraw, Zeno K. Myers, W. B. Olson, W. T. Pope and Edgar Wood. Following the meeting several others, including Judge Sanford B. Dole, expressed a willingness to become identified with the movement.

There are now in the neighborhood of eighty Big Brothers in Honolulu. It is the duty of each to keep an eye on some boy who has come before the Juvenile Court, and to exhibit a friendly interest in his well-being. As Juvenile Judge, Judge W. L. Whitney is constantly in touch with boys who need a guiding hand, and although, judging from the rapidly increasing interest, it would seem that the Big Brother movement here is merely in its infancy, there will for many years to come be an abundance of youthful material with which to work.

STRANGE MIX-UP IN COURT CASE

"We are thus presented," says the Supreme Court in its decision on the J. W. A. Redhouse vs. R. J. Graham case, handed down yesterday, "with the novel situation of a plaintiff offering evidence showing that he has no claim against the defendant, to which offer of evidence the defendant objects."

The case throughout has been a mix-up. The basis of the action in the first place was to recover $25 alleged to be the balance of money owing on a chronometer sold by Redhouse to Graham. Judgment was given for the plaintiff in the District Court and then the plaintiff went away. Just before he did, however, he assigned the debt to Attorney T. M. Harrison. The assignment was offered on behalf of the plaintiff and the defendant objected. Finally judgment was given in favor of the defendant and the plaintiff took exception to the fact and asked the Supreme Court to order a verdict of non-suit instead. This the court did in the present decision just out but at the same time pointed out that the former judgment did not amount to anything more than a non-suit.

The syllabus sums the situation up as follows: "Testimony given at a former trial of a case by the plaintiff is not admissible in evidence at a subsequent trial of the case on the ground that the plaintiff is absent from the Territory, where it appears that he had ample time and opportunity to apply for a continuance, as well as to have had his testimony or deposition taken but failed to do so."

"The affidavit required by Act 84, Laws of 1905, filed for the purposes of obtaining a writ of attachment, is not a compliance with Act 52, Laws of 1905, because the affidavit filed does not show, as Act 52 requires, 'That all the goods have been delivered.'"

"The plaintiff offering no evidence in support of his claim the court should direct a non-suit to be entered."

A very curious discovery has been made in Fifeahire, Eng. A thick plank of wood taken from a station building was found to have deeply imbedded in it a sword over two feet long. The plank of wood has been in use at least 15 years. The sword was of an old type, with the handle formed by a crosspiece, and the supposition is that it must have been gradually encircled in the growth of the tree.
